1. The war begins

Elite:Bionic War

I don't own Lab Rats

Bree's POV

"Attack!" Mr. Davenport roars.

My brothers and I jump into action. We hit, kick, and punch, every bionic soldier we can. It was hard because we've known some of them for our entire lives. That didn't stop them so it wouldn't stop us either!

Leo was fighting some younger soldiers. Adam was fighting some more muscular soldiers. I was fighting any soldiers that I could see.

Chase was trying to get some other people to safety.

The soldiers destroyed the entire park. The stage was on fire, the trees were also burning down, several people were now injured. I didn't know what to do!

"Bree!" I heard Chase cry.

I kicked another soldier to the ground and look in his direction.

A flaming log had trapped my brother in a burning hot mess.

A part of his shirt was now on fire. I used my superspeed as a vacuum and freed Chase. He fell onto the ground and that put out the flame on his shirt.

The soldiers had left the park and we're now on their way to other buildings in Mission Creek. Sirens were blaring. I superspeeded the four of us into alley.

"They should have believed us!" Adam coughed.

The smoke was everywhere!

"Let me look at your burns, Chase," I say. More like order.

Chase must have sensed I was not in the mood fight him right now because he pulled up his shirt. He had giant burn on his chest and one on his left arm.

I didn't have words to describe my anger towards this situation.

"Find me some water!" I ordered.

Adam and Leo out of the alley and came back five minutes later each holding a soda bottle filled with water.

"Where did you find this?" I asked.

"A dumpster for the bottles and the water is from a puddle," Adam explained.

I was disgusted with Adam and Leo but it was probably the only way to get water so I deal with it.

"I need something to use as a bandage!" I say.

Adam runs off again and comes back with actual bandages!

"I found a store near here," he says and hands me the bandages he also hands me five bottles of clean bottled water.

I smile at him.

I remove Chase's shirt and pour some water on the burns then wrap them. He stays completely still.

"We'll stay here for the night. Tomorrow we can set out and try to find a solution to this," I explain.

Adam, Leo, and even Chase nods.

"Good," I say.

**I think this will be my favorite book to write! Yay!****

**What did you think?****

**Goodbye my wolves!****

2. The school

Elite:Bionic War

I don't own Lab Rats

Bree's POV

I stretched and sat up on the cold alley ground. I saw that Leo and Adam were already awake. They sat on a wooden box, talking to each other.

"Hey boys," I yawned.

I didn't get much sleep last night and none of us have eaten in a day now.

"Hey!" Adam greeted, giving me a side hug.

"What are we going to do? What about my mom?" Leo asked, tears threatening to fall.

"We'll find her," I say.

"Chase must be really tired to be able to sleep this long on the cold ground," Adam says.

"He was hurt yesterday!" I defend.

"Only burned," Leo argues.

"Did you see his burns!?" I exclaim, trying to be quiet so Chase could sleep.

Leo put up his arms in defense.

"So what _is _the plan?" Adam asks.

"We could search for Tasha and get the word of the war to the White House before it gets attacked," I suggest.

"Yeah, but how?!" Leo exclaims, waking Chase.

"Guys? I had the worst nightmare that the war started yesterday and I caught on fire," Chase says, still half asleep.

"Sorry buddy. That's real life," Adam informs.

Chase sits up and looks around the alley.

"Darn!" He whispers.

"Can you stand?" I ask.

He stands up.

"Good, now we can search for my mom," Leo says.

"Food too!" Adam adds.

"Definitely!" I say.

We leave the alley. We walk down the street. It was _completely _silent. Not even a bird. Just a broken city.

Leo leads toward the school for some reason. Mission Creek High.
Chase and I almost attended this school but we went back to the colony before we could start.

Then we heard a sound. It was like a pig in a garbage can or something. Adam, Chase, and I hid on the stairs. Leo stayed put.

"It's okey, guys!" He says.

Out of the office hallway comes a lady in a pantsuit.

"Dooley?! The robots didn't kill you?!" She exclaims.

Leo shook his head.

"Actually I was wondering if you've seen my mom?" He asks.

Then I remembered that Tasha spent a lot of time at this school because she was apart of the PTA.

"Sorry. Nope!" She answers. She looks at us. "Aaaaaaaaaaaaaa! Robots!"
She exclaims.

"They're actually my siblings," he explains.

She looks confused. Adam, Chase, and I came out of hiding and stood behind Leo.

"Principal Perry, this is Adam, Bree, and Chase," He says, pointing at us. "Guys, this is Principal Perry," he says, pointing at her.

"Nice to meet you, Muscles, Stickpop, and Shrubhead!" She jokes. "I didn't know Dooley had siblings," she laughs.

"We'd better go," I say.

Adam, Chase, Leo, and I leave a laughing Principal Perry alone in Mission Creek High.

What now?

**I wanted to put Perry in here for some reason . . .**

**Goodbye my Wolves!**

3. Save them

Elite:Bionic War

I don't own Lab Rats

Bree's POV

Adam, Chase, Leo, and I were walking around the town, searching for injured people. No luck.

We walked a few more blocks until we heard voices. Soldiers! We ran toward the sound. We saw five soldiers attacking some people.

"Hey! Leave them alone!" Leo yelled.

The soldiers looked us. "Get them!" One boy soldier exclaimed.

They all rushed up to us. I grabbed my brothers and superspeeded them away. Then I came back and grabbed the other people and superspeeded them away, too.

They were all teens. Two boys and two girls.

"What just happened?!" screamed one girl.

"They're bionic freaks!" Yelled a boy.

"They captured us!" exclaimed the other boy.

"Where are we?" Asked the other girl.

"We didn't capture you," I say. "We saved you."

We were back in the alley.

"I'm Adam, and this is Bree, Chase, and Leo," Adam introduced.

"Who are you?" I asked.

"I'm Jamie," the blonde girl says.

"I'm Jhonny," says a brown haired boy.

"I'm Katy," the other girl says.

"I'm Patrick," says the other boy.

"Nice to meet you," Chase says, sounding kind of sleepy.

"Is he okey?" Jamie asked.

"Just tired," Chase yawns.

"Thanks for saving us," Patrick says. Then they leave.

We once again sleep in the alley, only to wake up to a group of angry soldiers.

**This story is boring so far. Sorry. I'll try to make it more interesting.****

**Question of they day: What would be your reaction to meeting Spencer/Kelli/Billy/TJ? ****

**A- You would cry of happiness ****

**B- You would pass out****

**C- You Would scream ****

**D- You would hug them****

**E- All of the above ****

**You can still sign up for the contest!****

**Goodbye my wolves!****

4. Nightmares and the Colony

Elite:Bionic War

I don't own Lab Rats

Bree's POV

**A/N: Chase's plan with the satellite was like Krane in ROTSS.****

I had been pacing around the alley. Trying to think of a plan was not working.

Chase who was lying on his back, on the ground, started talking. His eyes were shut. His burns were healing slowly.

"The only way to stop the army would be to use a bionic signal interrupter on all of them. Maybe we can go to the mostly empty colony, get a bionic signal interrupter, attach it to a satellite, then it will scan the world and stop the soldiers," Chase says, his eyes still shut.

"That might actually work, Chase!" I exclaim.

He opens his eyes and slowly sits up.

Adam and Leo sat against a brick wall.

"Is that our plan?" Leo asks.

"It's the only thing I can think of right now," Chase says.

"Then let's do it!" Adam exclaims.

We all get up. I superspeed us through the burning city.

We were about to enter the science lab when our worst nightmare showed up.

Douglas's newest creation.

Marcus.

**What did you think?****

**Goodbye my wolves!****

5. Android

Elite:Bionic War

I don't own Lab Rats

Bree's POV

Marcus stood only a few feet away from my brothers and I.

"Hello friends," Marcus says in a mysterious tone.

"What are you doing here?" I asked.

"I'm wondering the same thing about you," Marcus replies.

Marcus starts shooting at us.

Adam and Marcus blast eachother with heat vision.

Marcus blasted Leo and he fell to the ground.

I superspeeded into Marcus, knocking him over.

Before he could get up, Chase kept him down with his molecular kinesis. Adam threw a blastwave at Marcus. That ended the android.

We had just killed someone. Guilt must have hit Adam hard. He looked like he was about to cry.

Then I looked at Marcus. His hand twitched.

He wasn't dead.

I led my brothers away from Marcus.

**This was a boring chapter. Oh well.****

**Goodbye my wolves!****

6. We found them

Elite:Bionic War

I don't own Lab Rats

Bree's POV

My brothers and I found a bionic signal interrupter and left the lab. We found a TV satellite and hooked it up to the bionic signal interrupter.

"You guys do know that when I turn this on, we can't use our bionics until this is off, right?" Chase asked.

We nodded.

Chase turned on the bionic signal interrupter and what look like a laser shot up into the sky to the satellite in space.

We saw a bright light. Once the light went away, we couldn't use our bionics.

We set out to find where the army's camp was. Chase found out that they where in a junkyard somewhere. We just had to find the right one.

We looked for hours.

Threre were to many junkyards in Mission Creek! We went to like five and had no luck!

We where at number ten. We looked for a while. No luck once again!

We where about to leave but then we heard a sound. We turned around to see one hundred bionic super soldiers.

We need a better plan . . .

**Yes I'm _SO SO SO _sorry that this was super short. I always say that the next chapter will be longer but it never is. I stayed home sick two days this week and I missed A LOT of stuff.**

** I had so much homework to make up today. Poor Susz got the pleasure of hearing me complain about it. Sorry Susz!**

**I will try my best to make these chapters longer but no promises.**

**How was tonight's new Elite Force?**

**I also don't know what I want to happen in this story so please tell me if you have any ideas for me at all.**

**Thank you!**

**Question of the day: (How well do you know Elite Force?) How many times has Tasha's baby been mentioned in the show?**

**A-1**

**B-2**

**C-3**

**D-4**

**Goodbye my wolves!**

7. Winning the bionic war

Elite:Bionic War

I don't own Lab Rats

Bree's POV

My brothers and I stood in silence as the soldiers approached us.

"What are we gonna do?!" Leo whisper yells.

"For once, I don't know!" Chase snaps.

"We can't take on _all _of these soldiers!" I remind them.

"Bree's right!" Adam adds.

Out of nowhere, Adam charges toward the nonbionic bionic soldiers.

That starts the fight.

Now this is war!

Even though we were outnumbered, we kept on fighting.

I wish I could still use my chip but we deactivated them!

Suddenly, tons of trucks arrived at the junkyard. Military men poured out of the truck and shot anyone and anything in sight.

I was almost hit but even without my bionics, I was still fast.

Most of the soldiers were shot and killed or too injured to fight. Noninjured soldiers got caught and hauled off to a high security jail.

They somehow caught Mr. Davenport and Douglas, too. They went to prison.

"We did it! We beat them!" Chase and Leo cheered as they ran up to me.

"Where's Adam?" I ask.

"I don't know!" Chase replies, now sounding worried.

Leo shrugs.

We search for a few minutes only to find our big brother collapsed on the ground, covered in blood.

We surrounded him.

"Adam! Are you okay?!" We all asked. "What happened?!"

"I was shot," he explains before a mini coughing fit.

Tasha showed up out of nowhere. She and Leo hugged.

Tasha noticed our injured brother and she took him straight to what was left of the Mission Creek Hospital.

The doctors removed the bullet and said he will be fine. I was so thankful for that!

Tasha was not just our foster parent anymore. She was our mom.

We also got our bionics back and working! Yay!

I still had that necklace Chase gave me that day at the Colony.

A golden colored chain. A golden colored heart charm. Engraved in the heart was the word _Promise._

I would always love and protect my family. That's a promise that I would never ever break.

_Promise._

The End.

**Thanks so much to EVERYONE who has supported me and my Elite books! It really means a lot. I wouldn't have kept writing this without your support.****

**This was the final book. I hope you enjoyed this long book series.****

**If you have any other series ideas for me to use in stories, please tell me! I need ideas for a new series!****

**I love you all!****

**Goodbye my wolves!****
